SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—[Special.] The Johnson investigation was continued tonight in the Assembly chamber, which was crowded with spectators.
P. E. Barrington, editor of the San José Democrat, was put on the stand, and, except in one important particular, corroborated the former testimony of Railroad Commissioner Rea. The only discrepancy was in reference to all the Assemblymen whose names were marked on the card voting for a Repubican United States Senator. Mr. Rea and stated that only one would so vote

Witness corroborated Mr. Rea's statement that he (Rea) had handed the note back to Mr. Johnson, saying: "You want a cold-blooded $100." witness was closely examined as to his own credibility, and impressed his hearers as a person possessing a very elastic conscience and a poor memory. Several other witnesses, two of them employés and another Rea's attorney. were also examined, but nothing of additional importance was adduced. Simultaneously in the Senate chamber, the Senate Special Committee was examining the Railroad Commissioners. Commissioner Litchfield was first examined. He said that every complaint he ever made to the commissioner had been investigated. He recounted several discussions the commission had had with Traffic Manager Leeds. Litchfield, in answer to a question, admitted that he made uniforms for conductors and other employés of the Southern Pa-

Commissioner Rea was then placed on the stand, and in answer to Chairman McGowan practically admitted his incompetency. He stated that he did not indorse Expert Morgan's views, but when shown in his (Rea's) printed report to the Governor that he did so indorse them, and wanted a sufficient appropriation to carry out Morgan's riews, Rea became much nonplussed, and the committee kindly adjourned to help him out of his dilemma.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—The Assembly ommittee tonight continued the invesigation of the charges made by Railroad Commissioner Rea against John-

B. B. Barrington, editor of the San José Democrat, was placed on the witness stand. He stated that he knew Johnson; that three weeks previous to the elections Johnson came to him, wanting to borrow $100 on his note, asking him (Barrington) what were his relations to Rea. Barrington prepared a note, and, in company with Johnson, went to Rea's office. Johnson said that if Rea would lend him the money he would stand by the Railroad no Commission. Mr. Rea handed back a note saying: "The cold-blooded fact is note saying: "The cold-blooded fact is you want $100," and Johnson said "Yes." Then the subject of a United States Senator was introduced by Rea. During the conversation Johnson produced a card and borrowing Mr. Barring ton's pencil, marked names on the card at Rea's request. Rea said: "I suppose these are all out for the stuff." Barrington then stated that he called Rea outside and apologized to him for introducing Johnson.

to him for introducing Johnson.

Archie Tisdale and Thomas Bethel, employes of the Electrical Improve-ment Company of San José, of which Rea is president, testified that Johnson had called a number of times to see Rea. John Richards, Rea's attorney in San José, testified that on the day Johnson is said to have marked the names of the Assemblymen who would sell their vote, he saw Johnson enter Rea's office, and immediately afterward he saw a card which he identified as the one in evidence. H. J. Edwards, secretary of the electric company, of San José, testified that he went through the office while Johnson and Barrington were there. That he saw Rea return a paper to Johnson, and heard Rea say: paper to Johnson, and heard Rea say:
"I care nothing for your note or its indorsements. The cold-blooded fact is that what you want is $100." Johnson answered "Yes."
Edwards corroborated much of the evidence regarding the conversation between Rea and Johnson. The committee then adjourned till tomorrow evening. ing.

THE PANAMA INVESTIGATION. here Is Much Discontent in Paris Over the Acquittal of Rouvier.

Paris, Feb. 8.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] M. Bourgeois, Minister of Justice, has given authority for the Commission of Inquiry of the Chamber of Deputies to receive from the Chamber of Indictments a record of the evidence showing the grounds on which the Chamber of Indictments arrived at its decision in the cases of the depuies and ex-deputies accused of accepting bribes from the Panama Canal Company. The commission, after receiving the evidence, will, today, consider the question whether any further action is necessary on the part of the Chamber in regard to those of its members who have been relieved of criminal accusation by the Chamber of Indictments.

The newspapers generally express discontent with the action of the Chamber of ber on the ground that, although all the charges were substantially the same and apparently based on substantially terday were all approved by the Senate identical evidence, yet there are no reasons given for the difference in the He Vetoes Oregon's World's Fair Exhibit Appropriation. Lives Lost, Houses Wrecked. BRISBANE, Feb. 8.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The water is still falling slowly. The ruin and desolation falling slowly. revealed as the flood abates is beyond anything caused by the last great flood in 1890. The suburbs of the city are almost annihilated. South of the river the city is still submerged. In the higher parts of the city, where the waters are receding, many buildings have collapsed, and most of the others are damaged beyond hope of repair. Many provincial towns suffered as severely as Brisbane. Every hour brings fresh cases of villages submerged, lives lost, houses wrecked and bridges swept away. The loss of life is very heavy, but no approximate estimate number drowned is yet possible.

The proposal of this motion was received with prolonged cheering. M. Ribot spoke at length in defense of the Ministry. Ribot announced that the government accepted M. Cavaignac's proposal, and it was adopted by a vote of 446 to 3. Pierre Richard, Boulangist Deputy for the Seine, moved that the government return to Baron de Reinach's heirs the amount of money given by Reinach to Rouvier for the secret service. He requested urgency, which was voted by the Chamber, 232 to 176, although the motion for immediate discussion was lost.

The debate on the budget was then resumed. M. Goussol sent seconds to Norbert de Benoit, deputy for Aveyron, who interrupted him persistently during his speech. Charles de Lesseps has applied to the Court of Assizes to have the true bill, found against him by M. Franqueville, quashed on the ground that his offense was improperly defined therein. BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Discussion to Be Shut Off to Bring Up Home Rule. London, Feb. 8.—[By Cable and As-sociated Press.] On the assembling of the House of Commons at noon Gladstone announced that he would, tomorrow or our Friday, move the suspension of the rule under which the House adjourns at midnight. The object of this move is to bring the debate on the union with the United States. Queen's speech to an end, in order to permit the introduction of the Home Rule Bill.

The announcement was received with cheers by the supporters of the government. Collins moved that legislative action for the benefit of agriculturists have precedence over home rule. After several members of no particular prominence had spoken in behalf of Colling's amendment, Gladstone rose to explain. He said: "Of all the unusual conduct of the opposition, which has already moved six votes of censure to the address of the Queen, this motion made a new precedent. It purported to censure the government, not for what it had done, but for what it had not done. The government was determined to persevere in its own course. Gladstone maintained that the Parish Councils Bill was a measure in behalf of agriculturists, giving them autonomy and enabling them to work reforms in their own behalf. He taunted Collings with having aided the Tories in 1892 to defeat the efforts of the Liberals to improve the small holdings bill. No system for helpings by ings bill. will be backed up by a majority of the Committee on Appropriations and will be fought tooth and nail by the Republican minority, assisted by Representative Holman, chairman of the committee The proposed change in the pension policy has in view a considerable reduction on the pension rolls, and of the enormous amount now paid out for pensions, by purging the lists of the names of some of those now on it and by making more difficult the procurement in some cases of a pension under the laws. It is pro-posed to change the laws in some re-spects, and a new policy is to be in-augurated, so far as the administration of the law is concerned, by turning over the whole Pension Bureau to the War Department. These changes, with some modifications, are the same as originally proposed by the sub-com-mittee which framed the Pension Appropriation Bill, but which, in full com mittee, were stricken out by a majority of one vote. The committee has now by, a narrow majority, reconsidered their action. This morning the fight for a new pension policy was renewed by O'Neill of Massachussetts and others, and by a yea and nay vote the commit-tee decided to report the necessary amendments to the Pension Bill when it comes up.

SILVER REPEAL ADVOCATES.

Their Hopes of Securing a Cloture Vote Growing Less. Washington, Feb. 8.—|By the Assoiated Press.] The report of the Committee on Rules on the silver question will come up in the House tomorrow.

This afternoon the advocates of repeal of the Sherman act, in conference, aid their hopes of securing the cloture has grown less as the time for taking a vote approached. The majority of the Democrats are against it, and the effort to secure support from Republican appears to have failed. The Western leaders have a list of between thirty and forty Republicans, who, they say, will oppose taking up the silver question at this time. Unless there should unexpectedly be a change in the present situation on cloture, it will become necessary after that proposition is de-feated to decide on the course to be pursued. The anti-silver men will then change their tactics, and vote for the adoption of the Rules Committee's report, while the free coinage men will vote against even the consideration of silver at this time.

The hold-over and newly-elected Demo crats in the next Senate will number forty-three, and there are five Popu-lists, all of whom will undoubtedly vote with the Democrats on reorganization. The Republicans will have forty votes.

THE HOUSE ROSE IN REVOLT.

Representative Antony's Little Schem WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 .- [By the Associated Press. | The temper of the House in regard to the silver fight was pretty well demonstrated today by its disposal of the filibustering motion made by Mr. Antony of Texas. The Quarantine Bill had been called up for the purpose of concurring in the Senate amendments and passing it. Mr. Antony was conducting the opposition practically alone. He thought he could win support to his side by playing into the hands of the silver men. He. therefore, framed a dilatory motion the effect that when the House ad-journed it should be till Saturday. This he believed would win the votes of all free coinage members, as the intervening days, Thursday and Friday, are days set by the Committee on Rules for he consideration of the silver bill. his great surprise almost the whole house rose in revolt against the order.

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION. WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 .- [By the Assoclated Press.] Senate.—After the joint session was dissolved today, the Senate took up the Railway Automatic Car Coupler Bill. It was debated up to the hour of adjournment without any definite action being taken. During the debate Mr. Gorman took up the taunts indulged in yesterday by Mr. Chandler against the Democrats in the Senate for not supporting the pending meas-ure, which was favored in the platform of the National Democratic Convention. "The Democratic party," Mr. Gorman said, "was abundantly able to take care of itself. It was true that both National parties in convention as sembled in the year 1892 adopted resolutions favoring this class of legisla-tion, but the Senator from New Hampshire had not correctly quoted the resolution of the Demothe resolution cratic convention the resolution of the Demo-cratic convention. They would say that Congress must legislate so that the rail must have 150 pounds to the yard instead of 100, and the Carnegies and other manufacturers of steel rails who had a job to press would threaten Congress with their employés."
Mr. Gorman argued, in conclusion, that the organization of railway employés could accomplish more in the way of im-provement than all the legislation that could be piled on the statute books The roads of the country could not submit to further restrictions while the Canadian lines were entirely free from

The Hawaiian Revolution in a New Light

A Letter from the Minister of the Interior Explaining the Event.

He Denounces the Conduct of Minister Stevens as Degrading.

President Harrison With Earnest Appeals for Consideration.

Sr. Louis, Feb. 8.-|By the Associated Press.] A letter has been received here from John F. Colburn, Minister of the Interior of Hawaii, in which he outlines the position of the deposed Queen, of whom he is a supporter.

The letter is addressed to J. H. Ganz of this city, whose wife is an aunt of Colburn's, and is dated Honolulu, January 18. He asks Ganz to get the letter before some of the leading statesmen of America and "help to place the situation of affairs in this country in such an impartial manner to them that the Hawaiian Queen, her government and native population, can receive such hearing from our government that the American nation will cause to be restored, the Queen to her throne, the government to power, and the Hawaiian native population to its rights."

Colburn then tells of the deposition of the former Cabinet and the summon ing on January 13 of one headed by Parker, and in which he (Colburn) served. They immediately repaired to the Legislature and announced their appointment.

"Those of the Legislature present," says he, "and population to the number of about one thousand, who had gathered there, received us with ap-plause. The next morning, Saturday, January 14, the day that had been previously set apart as a day to pro-rogue the Legislature, we came and we presented ourselves again, and after going through the business of the House, it adjourned to meet at the prorogation hour, 12 m. I may mention here that on Friday and Saturday, the days we attended the Legislature, the members of the reform party were so dissatisfied and hostile over their dedissatisfied and hostile over their de dissatished and nostile over their de-feat that on both days they refused to attend the Legislature, and did not have the courtesy to attend the prorogation. While waiting for the hour of 12 to approach, I accidentally heard the Queen had proposed to pro-mulgate a new constitution. I immediately sought an interview with my col-leagues and notified them that if the Queen intended to act in such an arbitrary manner I would resign. They answered that they were willing to do the same thing, and we decided that if the Queen intended to carry into effec not to do so.

any such idea, we would all advise her "lat once repaired to the place of the opposition (reform party) and told them what I had heard and what we had concluded to do. The leaders of the party advised us strongly not to resign, as it would give the Queen an oppor-tunity to appoint others who would be willing to sign a new constitution. We followed their advice, and they as-sured us if any conflict came between the Queen and us, her Cabinet, the committee would give us their support to resist anything of this measure. At 12 m. the Legislature was prorogued and we repaired to the palace to meet the Queen. She then and there told us to sign a document purporting plainty we would not accede to her request and advised her to abandon the idea. She was very determined at first, but afterward yielded and gave it up. She came out and declared openly to the Hawaiian people that she could not give them a new constitution, and told them to endure their grievances. The crowd dispersed, and on the next day the leader of the reform party met us and made a proposition to us that, owing to the Queen's revolutionary according to the Queen's revolutionary according to the British minister, which is brief. tions in wanting to promulgate a new constitution, we should depose her and declare a provisional government. Our answer was we would give them an answer later on. In the meantime we, the Cabinet, summoned six of the most re-sponsible and conservative business nen of the city, also the diplomatic corps. They met us, except J. T. Stevens, the American Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to this country. We discussed the situation and agreed that the Queen was at first ill advised, but as she had abanloned the project we should not depose her and declare a provisional govern-

"We notified the leaders of this de funct and malcontent party that we would not agree to their proposition. At the same time we issued a proclamation and scattered it all over the town and delivered it to the diplomatic corps that the Queen had abandoned her idea and asking one and all to accept the assurances given in the proclamation by the Queen and cabinet.

oy the Queen and caoinet.

"The reform party was not satisfied with this, and they, with the assistance of the American Minister and troops from the U.S.S. Boston, enlisted a number of the satisfied and the control of the satisfied and the control of the satisfied and the satisfied ber of men to the extent of 200, and, aided by American troops, took possession and declared by proclamation a provisional government, contrary to the onstitution now in force and contrary a the rights of 100,000 people, the population of this country. The cabi-net notified the American Minister of what had happened, and asked him to assist the duly authorized government to suppress this revolt, or if he did not want to do that, then to remove the United States troops on board the Boston, and we, the government, could do it ourselves. When we told him we had 700 men under arms and were equal to the situation, his reply was he acknowledged the provisional govern-ment and would support it. We, the government, came to the conclusion, as we did not wish to come into conflict with the United States troops, to yield under protest. The Queen and her cab-net are at present removed under pro-test preding a hearing before the test, pending a hearing before the United States."

The writer goes on, saying: "This action on the part of the American Minister is degrading. He has upheld a mob, and does so against the wishes of the aborigines of this country, who are capable of taking care of themselves. The provisional government has put the country under martial law; they are dispatching a steamer now to carry their report to Washington, and they are sending ambassadors to Wash-ington. We have asked the steamer to take our representatives, so that both sides of the case can be heard, and they refused to do so. We will send them later. We trust it will not be too late.

The Hawaiian people are wailing for the loss of their country. Cannot America, 'the land of the free and the home of the brave,' undo this great wrong that she, by her troops and ambassador have assisted to do?

"Will you use your influence for us, and act promptly? and may God assist and help you."

and act premptly? and may God assist and help you."

This letter has been forwarded to President Harrison by Gantz, who makes an earnest appeal to the President and Congress not to accede to the demands of the provisional commissioners, upheld and sanctioned by the American Minister Plenipotent iary, J. T. Stevens, who has, without authority from the American Government, ity from the American Government, taken upon himself a high-handed meas-ure in trying to overthrow a peaceful

The letter was brought over on the Claudine by a personal friend of Mr. Colburn on a business trip to California, who took passage with the commis-sion. His sentiments were unknown to his fellow-passengers, and he carefully concealed the fact that he had been entrusted with the important docu-ment. Had it been known, he would have been denied passage on the vessel. Assoon as he arrived in San Francisco he mailed the communication to Mr. Ganz. It was the intention of Mr. Colburn that his uncle, as representative of the Royalist party, should go to Washington and present the docu-ment to the authorities in the interest of the Island Queen. Instead of going in person to the seat of government, Mr. Ganz, after some days' deliberation, wrote a petition to the President and members of Congress of the United States, incorporating therein Minister Colburn's communication.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

Senator Morgan Introduces a Bill Into the Senate About It.

Washington, Feb. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Yesterday, Mr. Morgan, the leading Democratic member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, had a short conference with Secretary of State Foster, and the bill that was introduced by Mr. Morgan today is the probable outcome of that conference. Mr. Morgau is an enthusiastic annexationist and it will be seen in the measure he provides, not only for Hawaii, but for any similar condition that may arise in the future. The full text of the bill, which is a very short one, is as follows:
"That, whenever the United States shall acquire dominion over any foreign country or place by treaty of annexation, or otherwise, the President of the United States will with the advice and by the consent of the Senate, appoint a governor for the same and the legisla ive council may consist of any number of persons not less than five nor more than twenty-five, whose acts shall be subject to revision or repeal by Congress, and unless the treaty of annexa-tion or cession shall otherwise provide, the said governor and council shall constitute and conduct all provisional gov-ernment for such a country or place un-til Congress shall otherwise provide by

Mr. Wilder, one of the Hawaiian Commissioners, was seen by a reporter while engaged in reading a copy of the bill. He said of course he knew nothing of the intention of Senator Morgan to propose such a measure, nor of the views of the administration on the sub ject, but it was exactly what the com-missioners desired for the islands in case annexation was decided on.

CALIFORNIA OYSTERS.

Natural Beds of Finely Flavored Bivalve

George E. Hall, the Turkish Consul at San Francisco, in a recent interview with an Examiner reporter, has the following to say about the California

We have oysters that are surely natives of the local waters, and not only that, but they are peculiarly fine ones. They are of the local waters, and not only that, but they are peculiarly fine ones. They are thicker and more suculent than the Oregon or Washington oysters. They are the most luxuriant-locking bivalves you could imagine, though as small as other Pacific stock, and in flavor they excel anything brought from the East. They compare favorably with the famous Ostend oysters that bring 80 and 90 cents a dozen in France.

France.

Now, these are found in just two places, where there are natural beds not much known except to a few old Mexicans. One place is at Carpinteria, in the Santa Barbara-channel, and about ten miles down the bara-channel, and about ten miles down the coast from Santa Barbara. The other place is some miles below the point of Hueneme, still further south, about half way between Santa Barbara and San Pedro. That is above Redondo Beach. The beds are if water about two feet deep, and at low tide the Mexicans go quietly out and gather them. There always seemed to be plenty of oysters at these places for local consumption, and though they could not maintain an industry their existence refuted the charge that California is an oysterless State.

Everything is in readiness for the opening performance of the "National Pageant" at the Los Angeles Theater this evening. The entertainment is for the benefit of the News and Workingboys' Home, and the Executive Committee having the matter in charge have devoted much time to making the affair a success, from an artistic atandpoint, and, from all accounts, they have point, and, from all accounts, they have succeeded. Although the sale of seats for the entertainment has been large, the report that all had been engaged is not true. Out of the 900 on the floor and balcony 400 have been sold, leav-ing yet 2000 seats remaining for the ing yet 2000 seats remaining for the three performances.

THE BEEKEEPERS.

The Second Day's Session of the Election of Officers for the Ensuing Year-A Number of Interesting Papers

Read Before the Body-Miscellaneous Business. The State Beekeepers' Association met yesterday morning in adjourned session at the Chamber of Commerce. The forenoon was devoted to the reading and discussion of the following Birds and Insects that Are Injurious to Bees and Fruit," H. E. Wilder; 'Bees vs. Fruit," R. Touchton; "Rise and Progress of California Beekeeping and the Aid It Should Receive from the State University," W. A. Pryal. A petition asking the Legislature for an appropriation of $300 to be used for the publication of the convention proceedings and to issue bulletins of information to honey-producers was drawn up and plans matured for the exhibiting of honey at the World's Fair. The afternoon session opened at 1:30, and the first order of business was the election of officers, a.J. W. McIntyre of Ventura county was reëlected president; Messrs. Mendelsohn of Venture o president; Messrs. Mendelsohn of Ventura, King of Orange, Brodbeck of Los Angeles, Trickey of Inyo, Thomas of San Diego, Hunt of San Bernardino, Pryal of Alameda and McCubbin of Fresno, vice-presidents. J. H. Martin of Redlands was reflected secretary, Mr. Woodbury treasurer, and Messrs. L. T. Rowley and Barnett to act as exercisive heard in commentation with the centive board in conjunction with the president, secretary and treasurer.

A paper on "Honey Plants of Southern California," by L. T. Rowley, next claimed the attention of the bee-keepers. The chief honey plants are the sage, which produces the best honey; the sumach, which produces honey; the sumach, which produces dark honey, but of excellent flavor, and wild buckwheat, the honey from which is off color, but of fair quality; other honey plants are the wild alfalfa, manzanita and gum.

Mr. Rowley advocated the improvement of the mountain ranges by scat-tering seeds of desirable honey-producing plants and allow rain and gravitato do the rest. He also s an exhibit of honey plants at the World's Fair, in order to show the source of California honey, as well as the article itself The next paper was in regard to the ioney market, and was read by J. H. Martin. This topic called out animated dis-ussion. It was moved that the secrecussion. tary send out return postal cards to honey-producers, gather statistics of the honey crop of California and send printed reports to each member of the association.

association.

The presentation of this motion called out a lively discussion, pro and con, many members holding that the beekeepers ought to guard against giving their private business to the public through the press, as this method would be sure to bring that about. If the honey buyers get an idea that the country is full of honey, they lower the price and this injures the bee-keepers profits. A private bureau of statistics for the members only might be a good thing, but, inasmuch as the annual coffee crop or sugar crop is not given to thing, but, insinite as the annual cor-fee crop or sugar crop is not given to the public, neither should the honey crop, if the producers would be as well protected from the soulless 'middle man' as are their contemporaries. There was talk of forming a combine and selling direct to consumers, and and selling direct to consumers, and finally the original motion was put and carried, so about next June the little jokers in the shape of postal cards will be sent out to the beekeepers all over the State to be returned to the secre-tary, and thence a report issued to members of the State Association only. The convention formally adjourned at 4 p.m. The New Alhambra Shoe Factory. Gail B. Johnson writes a note to Times to correct an erroneous impression made by an article in Tuesday's issue concerning the Alhambra Shoe Manufacturing Company and the "Johnson Brothers. In the first place the proposed shoe factory is no "mammoth institution;" the projectors propose to begin in a very modest way and expand only as very modest way and expand only as the trade warrants. Manufacturing is an experiment in this section, and to establish a plant on a large scale, these gentlemen think, would be poor business policy, even for "capitalists," which they do not wish to be considered. Not wishing to pose before the public in a false light, the Messrs. Johnson desire to correct the statement that they are "very wealthy" and "large owners of the Borden condensed milk brand."

They believe thoroughly in Southern California, its present promise and future greatness, and feel condens that manufacturing will ere long play a large part in the material prosperity of this section, and, believing this, say that they are "entirely willing to stand the brunt of a little pioneering."

TWELFTH YEAR.

Arizona's Right to Statehood.

Replying to a very false and bitter diatribe published by the Baltimore

American against Arizona and her right to become a State, the Tucson Citizen gives a summing up of the resources and advantages of that Territory which deserves to be generally disseminated among the people of the United States. Arizona is not properly appreciated beyond her own borders, any more than California used to be understood in the early times.

There are, in fact, strong points of resemblance between the two commonwealths, when we consider their struggles for development. California was originally believed to be an arid country, good for nothing but cattle-raising and to produce precious metals.

The argonauts who came here in '49 and the early fifties did not dream of making their homes here; they all expected to make their piles and go back to "the States." It is not necessary to enlarge upon the developments in agriculture and horticulture which have come since to enrich the country far more than the ledges of silver and the deposits of gold ever did, or to show how desirable from every point of view

The Baltimore American falls into all the popular misconceptions about Arizona that used to be held about California, and with as little real justificafully one-third are ignorant Mexicans that the chief industry is mining; that the ore deposits for the most part are not true fissure veins, but are mere blanket formations, with no promise of holding out; that the agricultural resources of the country exist mainly in the imagination of enthusiastic Ari cactus desert, and not well adapted even to pasturage; in short, that it would be says that there are few portions of the North American Continent so little understood and so much misunderstood as Arizona. Particularly is this true on the part of the press and people of the Eastern States, by whom Arizona is as dreaded as a pestitence. They turn their heads away and will not see the buy, was ever sold in Arizona, and pre-sumably never will be. When the writer came to Tucson the lands under cultivation were broken to crop with a bent stick, and had been so broken for nearly two hundred and fifty years, but the crops then, as today, were lux-uriant of growth, greater from a land after two hundred and fifty years of county have got into a wrangle over the name of their unhatched chicken. Some wish to call it "Olive" and some E. H. R. WRITES to THE TIMES maintaining that the people who have condemned the negro massacre of Texas should be equally prompt in denouncing prize fighting.

THE New York World, which professes to speak by the card and by authority, says: "Mr. Cleveland has not lost anything in whisky, except, perhaps, a little sugar.

THE latest argument in favor of annexing Hawaii is that it would furnish us a leper asylum and obviate the necessity of building one on this coast. The chance of obtaining an asylum already so well supplied with patients is a rare one. May be we could acquire a penal colony or two on the same terms.

Some down East genius has invented a "burglar exterminator," which consists of a huge knife, suspended in the window frame Tike a guillotine. When the burglar attemps to lift the sash down comes the knife and chops him in two. Nothing is said as to what will happen to the head of the house or the hired girl if either one of them happens to raise the sash without first disjointing the "exterminator."

THE latest illustration of the vicissitudes of American life is found in the case of ex-Gov. John M. Thayer of Nebraska. Two years ago Thayer, in making the contest against Boyd for the Governorship, was one of the most conspicuous men in the country. Now he is living in obscurity, deserted by his friends, and is reported to be so utterly destitute as to be dependent upon the bounty of a poor soldier in the suburbs

An exchange enters a protest against bills amounting to $5208.10 that have been presented to the Legislature in a contested election case, the principal items in which are $2500 fees to each of the lawvers who appeared to argue the case. Such fees are simply outfageous, and the people of the State ought not to be called upon to pay them. The Legislature, which we believe means to be fair and honest, ought to sit down hard on all such thinly veneered steals.

It doesn't do for people to be too far ahead in the fashion. The aristocratic ladies of England are beginning to ride astride when they go out for a hunt to hounds, and it is all right. Last Sunday five women of Phœnix, Ariz., went out for a herseback ride in the same manner, dressed in Mother Hubbards. They were arrested and fined $1 apiece. Phœnix women should have waited until the new fashion has crossed the ocean. Meanwhile it is all right to fine them-for wearing the Mother Hubbards.

WHEN immigrants arrive at our ports they have to register and make a record of their occupations. The New York Sun, looking over the register at Ellis Island, finds the record of 374,741 immigrants the past year, and says: "The great majority of them were common laborers, miners, mechanics, and farming men; but a good portion of them were devotees of the higher arts. There were among them 660 musicians, mostly from Italy; 909 florists and gardeners, 72 architects, 431 professional cooks, and no less than 848 ducer that Arizona shall win fame. Her agricultural resources are limited only Every time the Legislature adjourns for a day without accomplishing anything it costs the State about $2000 At least that is what the State has to pay in salaries for having nothing done.

It looks extravagant, but a Sacramento paper suggests that there should be no kick since, if the Legislature does nothing, we may all feel sure that it is doing no mischief. This line of argument would lead to an extinction of that august body altogether if it were carried to a practical conclusion. homestead law, in tracts of from forty acres to 180 acres. Each entry represents a family and a home. The Great American Desert will within the next ten years be hidden under the plowshare and the hungry East will look to Arizona for its grain and fruits.

The "desert sands" of Arizona for fruitfulness are equaled nowhere else on the North American Continent. They never wear out, they need no fertilization, but are up and dressed for a haps, after all, the best plan is for the egislature to do its business in a busiss-like way and draw its business-like salary for doing it.

WITHIN the past year or two the rabs have revived the African slave rade, which was at one time nearly ippressed. This infamous traffic is carried on with old-time boldness he powerful Arab leader, Munie Mohas been led, by his successful effance of the anti-slavery forces, into cts of arrogant aggression on white ers. The result is that an expedion is fitting out in the Congo Free ate against him, and there can be abt that his power will soon be shed. deplete the great herds of the Territory for stock cattle. There never was a pound of stall-fed beef in the markets of this town, but every beef killed was driven from the ranges, and there is no city west of the Missouri River that can show fatter or better beef. The grasses of the Territory are nutricious and cattle readily fatten on them. The cattle valuation of the Territory will reach $10,000,000.

Arizona is not treeless, as stated by the American. The mesquite is con-fined to bottom lands and the palo verde to the deserts, but the great pine for-ests of Arizona cover an area greater than the entire State of Maryland. Any ten-year-old boy with a rudimentary knowledge of Arizona could tell the American that. By way of internal improvements the Teritory now has 1074 miles of rail-road, another building and more being surveyed. Her public school system is of the best. She has a Territorial university at Tucson and a Normal school at Tempe that would be an honor and a pride to the State of Maryland, while oublic schools are scattered through every hamlet and village in the Terri-ory. The hand of progress is abroad in the land, but we want statehood, and we want it bad. We would much pre-fer a Republican representation, but if we cannot get that we prefer Democratic Senators to nothing. We want statehood and we are entitled to it on the merits of our Territory.

And, we will simply add, Arizona ought to have what she wants.

It is a fact of considerable interest to the people of this coast and of the United States generally, that Great Britain has been steadily strengthening her naval force in the Pacific. Some years ago the mere pretense of maintaining a Pacific squadron by means of modern gunboats was deemed sufficient for those waters. Recently the Admiralty has ordered several powerful warships to the Pacific. One is the Royal Arthur, a vessel of 8000 tons displacement, and with recorded speed of 19.5 knots an hour. She carries one 9.2inch breech-loading rifle and twelve 6-inch rapid fire guns in her main battery. She has a crew of 500 men. Another formidable warship is the Temeraire, an armorclad of 8540 tons displacement and 14.5 knots speed. Four 11-inch, four 10-inch and six 4-inch rifles constitute her main battery. Her crew numbers 650 men. It is not known positively whether the action of the Admiralty was influenced by the state of affairs in Hawaii. In any event it will do no harm to push our Pacific Coast defenses along and insist on a fair representation of the navy in Pacific waters.

They have more young men West now than they know what to do with. What they want is young women of the best class. When Philadelphia has "a surplus of 23,000 girls," the demands from San Francisco and the Pacific Slope should be promptly met.—[Chicago Inter Ocean.

Which simply shows that the Inter Ocean does not know what it is talking about. We have all the pretty girls and taking young widows on this Coast as much a mistake to admit Arizona to that are necessary to supply the marriage market, and our girls and young To this conglomeration of falsehood widows would thank the Massachusetts and misrepresentation the Citizen respinsters to stay at home. #### THE WHITE HILLS COUNTRY. History of the Discovery of the Mines in

In reference to the now notorious San Juan gold fields, J. P. Bernitt, one of the oldest and best informed practical prospectors in the Southwest, said "That excitement has vesterday: turned out just as I knew it would. I know the country thoroughly, having prospected it from one end to the other and cross ways many times eleven years ago, and again in 1886 and still later. That there is gold there, and plenty of it, is unquestionable, but it costs too much to get it. Pay-dirt begins at grass roots, but the big gold lies under a film deposit of a kind of cement reason that she is better qualified to assume the duties and responsibilities of reason that she is better qualified to assume the duties and responsibilities of Statehood than more than half the States were when admitted as such.

"Regarding the discovery of White Hills, of which the discovery of mines in that locality is generally attributed to Henry Schaeffer and myself, I think needs some explanation. Neither Schaeffer nor myself deserve such credit, as the mineral was discovered by an old Indian, and in this wise: Years ago a race war was started be tween the Mojave and Yuma Indians owing to intermarriages that were ob jectionable. The differences were ad usted temporarily, but broke out who had desired to remain neutra Tribal differences were thus occasioned and some very disagreeable, and in several instances disastrous, internecine conflicts took place, which ultimately precipitated general warfare amounted Arizona and contiguous tribes.

"In the meantime war paint gave ont. Pau-ko-te-ka, a sub-chief. had on some previous occasion discovered great quantities of red oxide o iron and black manganese, left mysteri ously one evening, but returned by daybreak with a large quantity of both these mobile minerals, which he sold at a high price. Mixed with bear's oil it was found to be superior to the ochres usually used, hence the demand was greater than the supply, which could not be greater owing to the distance and the secrecy necessarily exercised in visiting the mines. "A few years ago the Mojaves, who had experienced first drouth and then floods, had little corn and scarcely any vegetables. Thousands of cattle were held on their reservation by large syndicates, and the Indians, rather than starve killed what they needed. The cowmen proposed prosecuting the In-dians. Henry Schaeffer, of White Hills fame, was then a trader, a prospector. and had been elected a justice of the peace. Understanding the condition of the Indians and having failed in his efforts to have the Government save them from starvation—or theft—informed the cowmen that if the Indians were prosecuted they would have to take their cattle off the reservation. The Indians were not prosecuted, and Schaeffer became a great man, answer ing when the Indians desired recom-pensing him, give me the first informa-tion whenever you find mineral of any sort. It was then that Me-no-ko-toa the son of the sub-chief who had lately the son of the sub-chief who had lately died, informed Schaeffer of the location of the "paint mine," which Schaeffer, who had been remembered by Bernitt by locating extensions of the Gold Basin bonanzas, remembered his friend. Bernitt' and located him in on the properties from the first, then sent for Bernitt and together they discovered some of, the richest chloride mines in existence, and which Mr. Bernitt claims will yet startle the mining world, when is unmatched. Cattle will breed up to 500 per cent. Up to the age of 8 years their growth is rapid, and stockmen from Montana, Idaho and Wyoming fally developed.

Rapid Progress of the Riverside County Bill.

Interest in ex-Mayor Hazard's Primary Election Scheme.

Troublesome Bretz and His Trouble some Bill Before the Assembly.

The Question of Abolishing Poll Taxes-The Los Angeles Delegation Considering the Park Commission, The Whittier Jaunt.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7, 1893 .- [Spe cial.] The Riverside divisionists seem to be playing in great luck this year. After the first reading of the bill in the Senate yesterday, it was made the special order for 11 o'clock this morning Promptly on time today the clerk pro ceed to read the bill the second time and as each section was gone through with President Reddick made the stereotyped request for amendments. None were forthcoming until section fifteen, which relates to the political apportionment of the new county, was taken up. Then Senator Seymour of San Bernardino moved to amend by placing Riverside county in the Fortieth enatorial District instead of in the Thirty-ninth, as the bill calls for. Mr Seymour, who new himself represents the Thirty-ninth, objected to the retention of the hostile territory and wanted it set off with San Diego county. The matter came to a vote and the amendment was lost by a considerable majority. This was considerable majority. siderable majority. This was con-sidered somewhat of a test, and when the result was announced Harry Patton, Dr. Gregory and others who have been making Riverside's fight, became jubilant and could hardly conceal their feelings. The bill was then ordered engrossed, and will be read the third time which fields. time, which finishes it in the Senate. Immediately after the Riverside matter had thus been disposed of, Senator Goucher of Fresno rose and moved that the Madera county division bill be made the special order for tomorrow. It was the first time today, and if it passes second reading tomorrow—and there is no doubt on that point—it will be in the same position as its twin-brother, the Riverside bill. No other "children of the State" have thus far successfully reached the light of day, and it only rests with the Governor to perform the one little act of nurture with his right hand to place these twin-brothers on an equal footing with the rest of the family.

Ex-Mayor Hazard is back from San Francisco, and is, incidentally, pushing his pet primary election scheme. A bill embodying the Mayor's ideas was introduced in the House today, and referred to the Committee on Apportionment and Election Laws, of which Mr. Finlayson of Los Angeles is chairman. Several of the reform members of both houses have become interested in the Mayor's project, and have agreed to support such a measure, but there is slim hope of passing such a bill at this late stage of the session. Possibly, though, if public sentiment is thoroughly aroused, and the members hear. from their different constituencies.

oughly aroused, and the members hear, from their different constituencies, such a measure may, as a matter of urgency, have its passage hastened.

There was quite a discussion in the Assembly over the bill to abolish the payment of poll taxes. Several members spread themselves pro and con, but the measure was finally lost, and but the measure was finally lost, and the Chinaman and other irresponsible residents of California will hereafter be compelled to "antenp" annually his poll tax "allee samee" as heretofore. If some one would invent a scheme whereby non-taxpaying members of the community could be made to help support the government in another manner, there is no doubt that the onerous and odorous poll tax would the onerous and odorous poll tax would speedily become a thing of the past. But with our present system of laws the poll tax is a necessary though unpleasant adjunct.

Brother Bretz, whose sentence has expired, and who is now again lowing the formation ntual insurance companies, and while many admit that there may be virtue in such a measure, yet this bill is drawn in such a loose manner that were it to loose manner that were it to become a law, endless confusion would result. It came up for second reading today, and Mr. Schlesinger of San Francisco promptly moved to strike out the en-acting clause. Bretz got the floor and harangued the Assembly for nearly forty minutes, until the arrival of recess hour choked him off. When the afternoon session began Bretz again obtained the floor, and only subsided when Mr. Schlesinger withdrew his motion to strike our etc. Bretz, howmotion to strike out, etc. Bretz, however, seeing that the majority was against him, then performed the only sensible act he has thus far, been credited with, viz., asking to have the bill passed on the file without being acted on. It was so ordered, and again are several hours of waster time added to the debit side of the Assembly's ledger. motion to strike out, etc. Bretz, how to the debit side of the Arembly's ledger.

The Los Angeles county delegation held a rather stormy caucus during the noon hour today. It was all on account of the Park Commissioners' Bill, which recently passed the Senate and will soon be finally acted on by the House. Ex-Mayor Hazard annd Deputy District Attorney Dunn represented the opposing sides and for a while trlooked as if a common understanding would not be ing sides and for a while trubband not be a common understanding would not be arrived at. The feeling that the aparties about pointment of park commissioners should be vested in a power nearer the people was predominant, but the general satwas predominant, but the general satisfaction given by the present officials (who were appointed by Gov. Waterman and undisturbed by the present Governor) somewhat overshadows the principle of home rule in this case. If the members could be assured that the Los Angeles City Conneil would reappoint the present commissioners there would be no doubt as to the speedy passage of the bill. If no such action is taken the matter may culminate in the taken the matter may culminate in the introduction of an amendment to the bill whereby the people of Los Angeles will be allowed to elect the park commission as other officers are now

Chairman Johnson, of the State's Chairman Johnson, of the State's Prison and Reformatory Institution Committee, asked permission to send four members of his committee to Whittier to investigate the Reform school. The Speaker referred the matter to the Committee on Attaches and Employés. (?) From the composition of the latter committee I don't think those four members will go to Whittier. They will be allowed to stay in Sacramento and attend the investigation of their chairman, which begins tonight, and will thus be able to listen to any evidence Chairman Rea of the Railroad lence Chairman Rea of the Railroad Commission has to offer in corroboration of the charge that Assemblyman Johnson offered to sell his yote for the paltry sum of $100. #### HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES.

Commencement Exercises at the Los Angeles Theater.

An Entertaining Programme Arranged for the Occasion-Elaborate Floral Decorations - Presentation of Diplomas.

The sweet girl graduate who fomerly appeared but once a year—simultaneously with the June roses—has got into the habit of gracing the public with her presence sem-iannually and comes the summer flowers. The Los Angeles Theater was scarcely large enough to hold the crowd of students, patrons and friends of the High school who gathered last night to witness the sec ond commencement exercise of that in-stitution. The lower floor and galleries were literally packed, and many stood in the lobby and about the open doors. in the lobby and about the open doors. The boxes and loges were occupied by the teachers and representatives of the School Board. Promptly at 8 o'clock the High school orchestra of twelve members struck up the opening over-ture, Cox's "Hyperion," and ten min-utes later the curtain rose on the semi-circle of graduates, who numbered an even dozen, the principal, some of the High school teachers and the president of the Board of Education, Dr. C. T.

Pepper.
The stage was handsomely decorated in crimson and green, the former being the class color. Miniature forests of papyrus and poinsetta blossoms rose on either side, just back of the footlights, and a hedge of beautiful floral pieces, the offerings of admiring friends, stretched between.

A greeting glee, sung in splendid style by the High School Glee Club, composed of twenty boys, gave a happy introduction to the programme.

Lack of space forbids special mention of individual effort, but the liberal applause which greeted each number was sufficient evidence of warmest appreciation. The variety of style is worthy of comment. Not so very many years ago a commencement programme pre-sented nothing but the stereotyped essays and orations, with the valedic tory and salutatory by way of varia-tion. Last night's programme had but one so-called essay, and that was more in the line of a literary etching—l there were sketches, studys and poem-an exquisite thing, by the way nd quite remarkable for the beauty of its diction and strength of its lines. This variety of style is an innovation of modern education, and gives wider op-portunity for the student's play of fancy and creative power.

The choruses, two in number, were sung by sixty young ladies and gentlemen. So charming were the pretty men. So charming were the pretty girls in their quaint, soft-tinted gowns that a burst of admiring applause broke involuntarily from the audience as they appeared. Falling into a picturesque group back of the forest of bloom, they formed a living bouquet of flowers that rivalled the blosso rounded them-of course this simile aplies only to the girls.

The programme in full was as follows

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday morning at 10 o'clock with all the members present except Supervisor Forrester. Chairman Cook presided. Before taking up the regular business it was decided to change the order somewhat, and the minutes of the previous meeting were then read and approved. In the matter of the application of A. J. Cameron for a saloon license, it was ordered that the same be granted; also presented the following report, which

In making my monthty report, I will say I have killed and had killed by Drs. Oliver and Whittlesey, all told, twenty-eight horses and muße infected with glanders or farcy, and in every instance I have had the premises renovated and cleaned up, and have done all that could be done to keep this dreadful disease from spreading, and cautioned the parties that owned said watch the rest of their stock, and if any of watch the rest of their stock, and if any of them showed signs or indications of running at the nose to notify me and I would go and examine them at once, and that I would isolate said horse or mule and watch the result carefully, but no one has, as yet, reported any more stock sick to me. Where I have formerly killed or had killed horses or mules, there have been five or six instances where the horses I killed and had horses or mules, there have been five or six instances where the horses I killed and had killed were picketed out, and had not been in a stable or any other building, so the parties told me. Now, this report commences from the day of my appointment, December 3, last, to the 30th day of January, 1893. I shall do everything in my power to stamp out this dreadful disease; if I cannot attend to it alone, I will have the best and most skilled assistants to help me. Here in Los Angeles, at my own expense and in every instance I look after the stock to the best of my ability.

I think it would be a splendid idea to have a quarantine stable to receive stock that has been exposed to glanders, and keep them there twenty or thirty days and see the result, and if they did not show any indications of either glanders or farcy, to return them to their owners. That would be the proper way here in the city. In the country it would hardly be practicable, because the expense to the county would be enormous; but if the farmers will do as I tell them to, which is to keep their other stock away from the stables or sheds, and to tear down all mangers and feed-boxes and burn them, and and whitewash the whole stable, I do not think there will be any danger of the disease spreading.

Assessor Gray petitioned the board for a telephone to be used during the months when assessments were being made, which instrument the telepho company had been accustomed to fur-

A communication from Dr. H. P.
Bishop of Avalon was then read by the clerk, stating that the writer had been given to understand that an ordinance was pending before the board whereby saloon licenses on Catalina Island were to be restricted to two in number, and it provide that only property-owners there be allowed the permits. The communication was filed.

Dr. Brainard, the county p recommended that a confirmed invalid, now in the charge of the county, be given transportation to Bakersfield, where he had friends who would care for him. It was ordered that the rec omendation be adopted and the trans-

A CHILD'S DRESS.

[From Our Regular New York Fashion Correspondent.]

The little girl seated in the chair wears dress made of cream-colored flannel and trimmed with a Turkish border. The little gathered skirt has two rows of two little tucks each. The waist has a tight-fitting lining and buttons in the back invisibly. The front hangs lower than the lining and is gathered at the neck. The back has the same length, and a belt of Turkish trimming holds the waist and ends in a velvet rosette. There are imitation suspenders overthe shoulders also of the trimming.

Slippers are shown with elaborate buckles and are further ornamented with lace. One had a big round Rhinestone buckle that was made the center of a rosette of fine lace fully two fingers across. Only the toe of the slipper showed below, and the top of the instep above. In adapting this fashion, great care must be taken that the rosette is not made so big that the ankle is hidden. The idea of the rosette is to emphasize the delicacy of the ankle and the toe, to the sacrifice of the instep. If you don't happen to have much of an instep it is just the thing for you. Shoes for the bedroom are made slashed down at the sides like the shoes Romeo wears. The lined with fur and the fur sho They around the edges. Truth 'to say, they look prettier on the shelf than worn, like those dreadful knit things that are so facinating to make and pretty to look at, but which make one's feet look like frilled hams.

With a yard or so of wide lace and as much narrow ribbon you can fix up any bodice. Pass the ribbon over shoulders, bringing it to a point in front and at the back, either at the waist or just below or just above the breast line. Of course you run the lace on the rib-bon very full. That makes a couple of ruffle effects that hang over the shoulder and make a bertha in front and a pretty point behind. If you have made your points short-waisted bind your waist in loose belt that starts just at the point. Make great puff sleeves over which the lace hangs, and your bodice is quite in lace hangs, keeping with the present styles

DEATH AND AFTER.

And what is death? It is the lack of mortal The pallid, ghastly face, where Father Time has set His seal in impress unmistakable? Do staring eyes,
Which want but mortal flame to sparkle yet, Betoken all of death?

DALPHINE.

Believe not thou these idle lies, Which tell thee this is death. This awful name Applies not solely to that dissolution when this mortal frame Returns to that which fathered it—the earth. Blind! blind! to even dream that life can e'er decay, And that the little span from that which we and that the little span from that which we call death to birth Is all of Life! 'Tis not a single day!

The living death begins with birth; we enter then Upon a frightful dream—a blind, unceasing war
With uncouth phase of ing war
With uncouth phantasies which threaten Life, and when
The dreamer wakes to him the phantoms are No more.

Then, to the other dreamers he is dead, And loud they mourn o'er his awakening, And contemplate the simple change with dread Which sees no joy beyond the present sting.

And he who dies the death of living death is just Awakened from one dream to dream again—
Of what, we do not know: But this we trust— His future dreams are fraught with less of pain

And more of joy and nearness unto God. The Nazarene Gave not his human body to the ground tal scene—
No longer by his human concept bound—Became a dream to him, and, faded fro his sight, And he awoke to Life, and Truth, and God. We dream our bodies must decay, and turn with fright Our thoughts to what we place beneath the sod.

Think not because the dreamer dreams no

Think not because the dreamer dreams no more
His former dream that he is dead.

I would not call A single dreamer who has gone before Back through the gates where somber shadows fall.

Perchance his next awakening will be To perfect Love through all Eternity.
Turn not thy gaze to Death in search of Life:
Arouse and see this world as but a scene Peopled with phantoms, Death, Despair, and Strife.

And wake to Life, as woke the Nazarene.

Trial of a Peculiar Case Before Judge Clark.

An Old Man Seeking to Recover Property from His Son.

Injunction Proceedings in Progres Before Judge Wade.

Suit to Quiet Title to Land in the San Pa qual Tract - Pompey Smith Conicted of Assault as Charged, Court Notes.

The trial of the case of W. S. Jamison by his guardian, Minerva Jane Redwine, vs. F. M. Jamison, his son, ar action to annul a deed, was commenced before Judge Clark in Department Two yesterday, but was not concluded, and will be taken up again today.

Plaintiff alleges in his, or rather her complaint, that on August 31 last, William S. Jamison, an old man of 92 years, was adjudged incapable, on account of his being feeble-minded, of taking care of his property, and Minerva Jane Redwine, his daughter, was duly appointed as guardian of his person and estate. That his estate consisted of 106.10 acres of land in the Hyman tract, in the Rancho San Antonio. That defendant, his son, for the purpose of cheating the old man out of this property, falsely represented to him that in order to insure himself against future want, he should convey the land to defendant, who would thenceforth attend to his needs and take care of him. The result was that on July 30, 1890, the old man executed a deed to his son; but defendant failed to perform the obligations he had incurred, and not only allowed his father to suffer for the necessaries of life, but sold part of the land and mortraged the rest, appropriland and mortgaged the rest, appropri-ating the proceeds to his own use. It is therefore sought to set aside the con-veyance and annul the deed.

Defendant, on the other hand, alleges that for twenty years prior to July, 1890, he performed various services for his father, with the understanding that he was to be rewarded at some time, and that during that time he had supported him to the best of his ability. supported him to the best of his ability. Further, he alleged that in June, 1882, when he was living in San Diego county, his father asked him to come home, and promised that if he would live on the land in controversy, he would convey it to him, and the conveyance in question was executed in accordance with this agreement.

INJUNCTION SUIT BEFORE JUDGE WADE. The case of George W. Pritchard vs. Edgar J. Durrell et al., an action to obtain an injunction to restrain defendants from selling some of plaintiff's property under an execution, came up for trial before Judge Wade in Department Three yesterday, and, after occupying his attention all day, went over until this meaning.

until this morning.
Plaintiff alleges that in August and September, 1889, defendant Durrell and three others conveyed to him four and three others conveyed to him four tracts of land at Crescenta Cañada, valued at about $7000, and that the furniture of the La Crescenta Hotel, worth about $800, was also conveyed to him in trust for some other parties; that on February 26, 1892, E. J. Durrell recovered judgment against one H. E. Fraley in the sum of $4200, and department Chison. See Sheriff, levied of fendant Gibson, as Sheriff, levied on plaintiff's property, in which Fraley claims some interest, and has already advertised the hotel furniture for sale; that defendant Durrell being insolvent, he has no other remedy than that sought, viz.: to restrain defendants from selling his property.

Defendants allege, on the other hand, that Fraley bought the furniture, which is worth at least $1500, and that he has an interest in the real woods the the has an interest in the real property, the value of which is estimated at $16,000, and that on August 14, 1888, Durrell, at Fraley's request, transferred all the personal property to plaintiff for Fraley's benefit; that the latter failing to perform a certain contract which he perform a certain contract which he had entered into with Durrell, defend-brought suit and recovered judgment as stated; that the matters at issue in this case are the same as those in the case referred to, and that the findings of Judge Shaw therein are a bar to this action.

TO QUIET TITLE. Suit was commenced in the Superior Court yesterday by Frank H. Dennis et al. against Ira Bint and 124 others, to quiet title to twenty-five acres of land in the San Pasqual tract, under somewhat peculiar circumstances. Plaintiffs allege in their complaint that in the latter part of 1882 Charles J. Dennis died intestate, leaving the real estate above described. His widow, Clotilda S. Dennis, thereupon became the owner of one-third, and his two sons and a daughter, the plaintiffs, inherited the remaining two-thirds of inherited the remaining two-thirds of this property. The widow, in January, 1883, applied for letters of administration to the estate; but, as she falled to take the requisite oath of administra-tion, none were ever issued to her. In spite of this omission, however, plaintiffs allege that she filed a petition for an order allowing her to sell this realty on May 5, 1883, and ten days realty on May 5, 1883, and ten days later such an order was made. The result was that on June 1, 1883, she disposed of it to Edson Turner, and the sale was confirmed by the Court on July 31, 1883. Since that time it has been divided up until over a hundred and twenty different persons claim interests in it, and plaintiffs now seek to annul the sale, cancel the deed executed by their mother, and to quiet their title as to all the other claimants. te all the other claimants.

GUILTY AS CHARGED.

The trial of the case against Pompey Smith, charged with having assaulted John Manning with intent to commit murder, was concluded in Department One yesterday morning, the jury, to whom the matter was submitted at 10:15 o'clock, returning fifteen minutes later with a verdict of guilty of assault with a deadly weapon. Smith will be sentenced tomorrow.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY. John C. Hannah was taken before United States Commissioner Van Dyke yesterday for arraignment upon a charge of perjury preferred against him by G. W. THERE is only one thing a lazy man can do without getting tired: Eat a good square meal without flinching. Did you ever have a lazy clerk wait upon you? Ain't it tiresome? That is one thing we don't keep-lazy clerks. Active, energetic, go-ahead people; lazy clerks we put out to grass and let some one else pay their fodder bill. We want people behind our counters who show ambition, energy and tact, who will give samples with as much freedom as they sell goods. We want our salespeople to show goods and show them freely, and to wait upon people in a manner to bring the credit of the house up to the highest standard. While the trade of this house is growing enormously, we are still pushing business to bring it up to the very highest standard. We recognize the fact that our advertisements are being read by a very large number, and we wish to say while we stamp our own individuality upon our advertisements we send out, we also send with it a guarantee of good faith in every business transaction. It is useless to spend money on advertising and then deceive the public; the public are our best friends; we look to them for support; we can't afford to deceive them, and we don't. Here is an item in our Linen Department-a pure linen, even, round thread, well twisted and closely woven German Dice Table Linen for 50c a yard; it will wear as well as dollar goods; it contains no dressing; it is as honest as the sturdy German can make them. Napkins to match, $1.50 a dozen, or 12 1-2c each. Fine Crystal Cut Glassware free to every purchaser of one dollar's worth or more. Plenty of other prices to fill the wants of a de-pleted pocketbook. A Dollar Corset for 50c; a genuine dollar corset for 50c; a corset worth a dollar for 50c; compare this corset with any dollar corset, that is the way to get at the real facts in the case.

Today a new line of Scotch Zephyrs from over the sea. Fine new All-wool Suitings, 50c a yard; 46-inch All-wool Black Henriettas, $1.00; no better goods on the street for less than $1.25—our price $1.00; the width, as well as the quality, recommend them.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO. Feb. 8.—[Special to THE TIMES.] The vegetable market shows few changes this morning. Potatoes ruled steady with a moderate demand; the receipts were 2633 sacks. Choice onions of all kinds moved off well, with a firm tone in prices; the receipts were light, amounting to 180 sacks. Early vegetables are very scarce and the range of prices was higher this morning. Some rhubarb is again offered. Mushrooms are fairly held, with light arrivals.

The fresh fruit market is dull, both in local and shipping trade. The demand for oranges is checked by cold weather, and the only sales worth mentioning are in the better grade of apples. Lemons of all kinds are weak, with firmer prices for Mexican limes. Dried fruits are moderately active with light stocks on hand.

A varioad of Eastern ponitry was placed on the market today, and the sales were fair at about the ruling quotations. California receipts were light and prices are unchanged. Game came in lightly and is well cleaned up. Prices are steady, except for hare, which are lower.

The fresh butter market rules weak, with stocks accumulating and dealers holding off in anticipation of lower prices. An easy tone prevails in the market for eggs of all kinds and receipts are liberal. The commoner grades of cheese are weaken.

THE PIRU DISTRICT.

Newly-discovered Gold Properties Attracting Attenti

J. P. Berhitt, better known as "Lucky," the discoverer of Creede, Gold Basin and practically of the now famous White Hills, returned from a trip north yesterday intending to go to Arizona on the evening train, but was intercepted by Maj. D. M. Menzies, the discoverer of the gold mines in Piru district, Ventura county, who pre-vailed upon Mr. Bernitt to return with him to expert his properties.

Maj. Menzies encountered in his de velopment work some, to him, unex-plainable difficulties, and hopes Mr. Bernitt may aid in extricating him from his quandary.

The gold properties Mr. Menzies has been working give indications of being very rich, but, as his means are limited, progress in development has been slow. A shaft ninety feet in depth has been sunk on the vein, and as depth has been attained indications have grown more favorable. Some very rich quartz was taken out, showing fleur gold in consid-erable quantities, while coarse gold showed equally well.

As depth was attained sulphides entered into the chemical composition of the ores, which caused Mr. Menzles to abandon the shaft, and begin a cross-cut tunnel, which he has driven already 251 feet, and would, within the next thirty feet, cut the vein at a depth of about one hundred and sixty feet, and seventy feet directly beneath the lower workings in the shaft. But money gave out, and with it, what little enthusiasm Maj. Menzies had in reserve had siam Maj. Menzies had in reserve had become almost dissipated until he interested "Lucky" Bernitt, who will return to Ventura county with him by tonight's train. If the property is as represented, Mr. Bernitt says he will put up the necessary money to drive the tunnel to cut the vein, and sink the shaft to the depth so attained, which will prove the extent and richness of the lode, together with what drifting the lode, together with what drifting would naturally be done in prospecting and developing the ore bodies reached.

Mr. Menzies is very jubilant over the future, as with so progressive and aggressive a man as Bernitt, who has money in plenty to back him, Maj. Men-them, and that he 'will again be on top of the ten rail fence.'

The Piru district is an old one, but these gold properties were but lately found. The camp is sixty miles west flancater on the Southern Pacific. of Lancaster, on the Southern Pacific Railroad, where stage is taken for the mines. Mr. Bernitt will be gone a week.

MINES AND MINING.

An Interesting Talk With a Prominent Mining Man.

Capt. Burgess Tells About What is Going on in the Way of Development Throughout Arlzona-Old Mines Opened.

In an interview with Capt. J. Dewitt Burgess of Tucson some very interesting mining items were gathered. Mr. Burgess is the general manager for a large English and Scotch syndidate who own mining properties in many portions of the Southwest, among the most important being the Cañada del Oro group of mines, situated thirty-five miles north of Tucson in the Catalina mountains; the famous Silver Bell group in the mountains of the same name and situated twenty miles south name and situated twenty miles south from Red Rock station; also, the Buster groups of copper mines, in the Peck district, Yavapai county. All these properties are being worked.

The Canada del Oro group consists of twenty three mines, several of which are producing fine silver-bearing lead ores, and employing twenty-three miners. The ore from these properties is assorted and the higher grades ties is assorted and the higher grades shipped to the company's smelter near Tucson, which is also working the selected ores from the Silver Bell groups, consisting of fourteen mines, which produce silver and copper ores, and work ing forty-six men, thus furnishing enough raw material to keep the eighty-ton lead jacket and two thirtysix-ton copper jackets continually in blast, which in turn employs thirty more men.

Capt. Burgess, who is a practical mining engineer and acquainted with almost every property in the Southwest, gives the following information concerning other mining interests in Arizona:

"At Globe considerable development

"At Globe considerable development work is being done on heretofore idle properties. The Old Dominion is at work and furnishing ore sufficient to keep busy the company's two thirty-six inch jackets, the product from which averages about fifteen tons of copper matt per day. The Buffalo group, re-cently purchased by Phelps, Dodge & Co. of New York, have begun develop-ment work in earnest, but have not yet ment work in earnest, but have not yet started up their furnaces.

"At Tombstone, the Tough-nut is working taking out good ore 150 feet below the water level. Work on the mines there is somewhat at a standstill, owing to the several big properties being at loggerheads over the drainage question. It seems the Grand Central some years ago, but in a pump. Central, some years ago, put in a pump, and, after working it some months, discovered that they were not only draining their own, but every other mine, examinations showing that a great tank existed. The Grand Central had expended some $300,000 on the pump plant and wanted the other properties to pay a pro rata of such expense, as well as the expense of pumping. This being refused, the Grand Central shut down the pump and were subsequently run out of their lower levels owing to the accumulating flood. The matter stood in that way until recently, when the pump-house until recently, when the pump-house burned down mysteriously, and now the big mines, including the Grand Central, Doughnut and Boston Mining and Milling Company are talking up the scheme of sinking a common draining shaft and putting in a big pump plant, to be owned and operated jointly. If this is done, and indications point to that end, Tombstone will get a move on her that will put the old-time boom in the background, for, with these mines working, the smelters and mills will reworking, the smelters and mills will re-sume operation, when the smaller properties may have their ores treated, and dozens of small properties that could not be operated under other circumstances may be opened up on an immediate paying basis.

"The Reward mine, thirty miles south of Casa Grande, is taking out some fine copper-silver ores and their smelter has been put in order to start the fires as soon as coke arrives, "The Mammoth Company has its

"From the Jack Rabbit properties, eighteen miles south of Casa Grande, some splendid silver chlorides are being taken, which are being reduced in a en-stamp mill, which runs continually, former working when not on new ores. Five miles below the Jack Rabbit, the Boomerang Company is putting up a ten-stamp mill, as is also a company

"The famous gold properties in Quijotoa district are being worked with vigor so far as development is concerned, and as soon as the Huntington mill, just purchased by Manager Day, is in place, the work of taking out ore will begin in good earnest; then things will boom in that locality.

Clark's Cutaway Harrow!

The Reversible Harrow is Designed for Orchard Work.

The A-6 Reversible, when used with extension head, measures nine teet wide (see cut.) and cultivates well under the trees, throwing dirt either to or from as desired. While the width is increased the draft is not, because the gangs are merely separated. It will pulverize the soil to the depth required and destroy all weeds and trash, thoroughly mixing them with the soil, thereby protecting the roots and retaining the moisture. ### A COLOSSAL ENTERPRISE.

The Latest Irrigation Scheme That is Being Agitated in Arizona. T. E. Farish, lessee of the Vulture nines and mill, gives information of a colossal scheme toward diverting the waters of the Hassayampa River to an immense canal, which in turn will distribute through laterals the waters over the several hundred thousands of acres of land between that stream and the Agua Frio. The plan is to con-struct a submerged dam, either at the Red Buttes or at the mouth of Box Cañon, or probably both.

Mr. Farish says the scheme is not only plausible, but has been proven reasonably practical, at least past mere reasonably practical, at least past mere theory, as the fact that water may be secured below Red Buttes at any place above a given point at a depth of thirty feet, while below 200 or 300 feet is feet, while below 200 or 300 feet is the required depth to obtain it, proves conclusively that a great reef or rim exists, which, being reached, a submerged dam may be constructed and the waters not only stored, but literally backed over the mesas by gradations. At the mouth of Box Cafion the submerged dam scheme is an easy matter, as bedrock is practically at the surface, but the cost of getting water on some of the lands would be considerable. By the scheme being worked at both places, howeyer, much more land could be watered.

Rain is upon us again, and the local record has already passed 17.50 inches. A curious circumstance usually presages every storm of importance in Santa Barbara. This is the flight of wild geese, which invariably move in a northerly direction. Last Saturday morning there appeared what may well be termed a phenomenal flight of these fowls. People living in the foothills were startled by the whir of many wings and a sudden darkening of the the which gave for an instant, to the unprepared, the impression that a great forest fire was sweeping down upon them. Reliable observers who witnessed this spectacle, estimate that the flock was them. despair of making any estimate of the number of birds it contained, while declaring that they have never known the geese to fly so low. If the size of these flocks are at all in proportion to the rain which they seem to prophecy, the storm which has been incubating since saturday, and of which several small installments have already appeared, may be expected to be unusual and prolonged.

At the meeting of the World's Fair Commissioners on Tuesday afternoon, Clio Lloyd was chosen to take charge of the Santa Barbara county exhibit at the World's Fair. No more suitable or better deserved appointment could possibly have been made. Ever since he was engaged to take local charge of the county exhibit, Mr. Lloyd has worked untiringly to promote its best interests, traveling to all parts of the county, enlisting the interest and cooperation of citizens and fruit-growers, and faithfully assisting in preparing the local contributions. In his seal he has not stopped with the duties that were and cobperation of citizens and fruit-growers, and faithfully assisting in preparing the local contributions. In his acal he has not stopped with the duties that were plainly mapped out for him, but, finding that there was much dimeulty it securing the theorem of the proper preservation of fresh fruit, he has made a special study of all the different-methods, and his signal success in this direction has already been noted. He is a loyal young citizen of Santa Barbara, and will represent her interests most creditably in the wider sphere now assigned him.

ORANGE COUNTY.

On the Eve of Important Railroad Developments.

The Prospects for the New Kite-shaped Track Very Favorable-Increase Postoffice.

Santa Ana seems to be on the eve of in portant railroad developments. The city already enjoys a splendid railway service, but the country roundabout is clamoring for better service, and its persistent work. from the way matters look now, will per-haps be the means of some of the railroads now entering the city extending their lines to the fertile sections across the river which have hitherto been without railroad communication except by way of Santa Ana or Anaheim.

The fact was developed at the City Trus-ees' meeting last Monday evening that the Southern Pacific Company was desirous of extending its line from this city to Long Beach and San 'Pedro, connecting at that place with its San Pedro branch, which would give it a kite-shaped track, and one that would prove very valuable to it. The snag that so far has been in the way of the carrying out of this project has been carrying out of this project has been the Southern Pacific's seeming inability to get through Santa Ana. But last night that obstacle was removed by the City Council passing an ordinance making it possible for the company to get through the city on equal terms with any other railroad or railroads. It now remains for that company to make its promises good by taking immediate steps toward the construction of the road. The Santa Ana and Westminster Railroad Company has been granted an extension of its franchise on Second street for one year, during which carrying out of this project has been the Southern Pacific's seeming in-Second street for one year, during which time the road will, no doubt, be completed and in running order. This road if ex-tended from Garden Grove and Westminster down through the Bolsa country and around to Newport would give Santa Ana another kite-shaped track. If this road be so extended, and it is not altogether im probable that it will, and the Southern Pacific constructs its "kite" via Santa Ana Long Beach, San Pedro and Los Angeles, Santa Ana and Orange county will have a train service second to no other favored portion of the State of California. It is becoming a demonstrated fact more and mor

INCREASE IN POSTOFFICE BUSINESS The boys must be writing to their girls oftener since the new Columbian stamps have been placed on sale. By an investi-gation of the comparative sales of the or-dinary stamps in 1890 and the Columbian stamps in 1893 it is learned that the sale of the Columbian stamps for January, 1893, exceeds the sale of the ordinary for January, 1892, by 4503. From this in-crease, at least so far as Santa Ana is concerned, it can be readily seen that Post-master-General Wanamaker was quite cor-rect in his prophesy in his last annual re-port that a inew series of stamps would stimulate correspondence and therefore in crease the revenue to the postal service. While this increase in Santa Ana is in most part likely attributable to the increased part likely attributable to the increased business of the city, there is no doubt that much of it is due to the introduction of the new stamps.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

The regular monthly meeting of the Santa Ana Benevolent Association was held in the Presbyterian. Church Tuesday evening, at which but ten members of the association were present, representing but four of the churches of the city—Presbyterian, Congregational, South Methodist and Catholic.

A committee consisting of Rev. J. T. Hopkins, Mrs. C. F. Grim and A. J. Wood, were appointed to audit bills presented.

The room offered by Mrs. L. Yetler as a repository for the association was accepted.

The object of the association is certainly a worthy one, and there is much work for it to do. At the present time it is in need of more good workers. There are no demands upon the purses of the members of the association. It is simply the desire of its members that others cooperate in the good work, that the good influence of the association may be extended.

The Southern Pacific Company Having the Harbor Surveyed.

The Scalpers' Bill Again Looming Up-Prominent Railroad Officials Visiting Los Angeles - General and Local.

Yesterday was not a model day for an excursion to the seashore, but the members of the Chamber of Commerce, or about a hundred and twenty of them, did not want to hurt the feelings of the Southern Pacific Company by declining the invitation to visit the big wharf at Santa Monica, and they showed up at the Arcade Depot clad in rubber coats, gum shoes, umbrellas and other articles of wearing apparel. Some of them would not have got wet had they fallen into the ocean. The officers and members of the Chamber of Commerce, a couple of representatives of the railroad and a pair of newspaper fellows composed the rainyday party, and all disembarked upon the big wnarf in a driving rain. The inclemency of the weather did not prevent this crowd of expert wharf builders from inspecting the work and pass-ing judgment upon its immense propor-tions. The wharf has now attained a a length of 4000 feet, and will be built about eight hundred and fifty feet further into the ocean. The portion that is being constructed now is 130 feet wide, and will accommodate seven lines of tracks. The coal bunkers, 800 feet in langth, will be built on the por-tion of the wharf which is as yet not constructed. At the present sea end of the wharf the water at low tide has a depth of thirty-eight feet. There will be a depth of forty-five feet at the outer end of the wharf when completed. Owing to the rain no work was being done yesterday, and the visitors did not get to see the pile-drivers in operation. Still, they were satisfied and came home in a good humor. SCRAP HEAP.

ON THEIR WHEELS.

A Tour Through Southern California on Bleyeles. R. W. Cobb of Auburn, Ind., and William Noble of this city made a cycling run over Southern California, combining business and pleasure. Their route was via Alhambra, El Monte, Pomona Ontario, North Cucamonga, San Bernardino, Redlands, Riverside, Perris, Elsinore, Temecula, Fall Brook. Escondido, Poway, San Diego and Coronado, returning via the coast, riding the beach much of the way to "San Juan by the Sea;" thence to Santa Ana and Los geles, covering over five hundred miles.

From what is learned these gentlemen had a most delightful experience from start to finish—"perhaps, excepting the last two days in the rain" which overtook them at Capistrano. They, however, determined to continue homeward, and took to the railroad ties, where practicable, and, finally, to the country roads. Raining at intervals, the adobe roads were almost impassable, and, at times, both the wheels and wheelmen were stuck in wheels and wheelmen were stuck in the mud. A few like experiences were sufficient to convince the boys that anything else was better, so the foothills and grassy ravines were re-sorted to, and the run over hills, green pastures and beside still waters proved a beautiful ride until the San Grbriel River was reached. This was an ob-struction, but had to be crossed. One of the boys took a flying start down the embankment and tried to ride the raging stream, but was capsized, and got a ducking. After fording the river the roads were in fair condition most of the way, and the wheels brought the boys into town in quick time. Some start-ling accounts were given of fast runs, hill and mountain-climbing. Mr. Cobb carried a kodak, and has a novel way of taking his own picture with others while on the my or while falling over a precipice down a mountain side.

We have never in our business experience encountered the word "Failure," it is always "Success." We have concluded to take the management of our shoe department in our own hands, and we can assure you that henceforth both in the character of leather, the matter of treatment and the question of prices, you will be more than pleased to do your shoe purchasing of us, Shoes are made with two objects in ylew: One for sale, the other for wear. A shoe is an article that requires confidence reposed in the seller. You can go to a house, find a shoe at a price, and into another at a lesser price. In appearance they look alike; one is made for wear, the other is made for sale. To an inexperienced eye they would both look alike, and at first glance the purchaser would imagine he saved money by buying the shoe at the lesser price.

In looking over a sample line of shoes you will find shoes ranging within a dollar of the cost of each other, in appearance they look alike. The higher cost shoe has more costly stock, more expert workmanship and better linings, but to the ordinary purchaser they would appear alike.
